"A cutesy digipak featuring Johannes Möller, his head a mass of blond ringlets, and his puppy dog companion, bodes ill for the artistic merits of this debut recital. But fear not! Möller's programme, while accessible and attractive, is also thought-provoking and intelligently executed.

...Möller's playing is lucid rather than flashy, his tempi in generally on the leisurely side; like any any good painter, he prefers a restricted palette in order to not obscure the underlying structure.

...A debut with much to recommend it, then. And, you know, upon closer acquaintance the packaging does improve - in an elegant Euro-pop kind of way"

The Gramophone (UK)

"On this hearing he is already a mature artist with excellent technique and as recorded here produces so beautiful a tone that I had to dig deep in my guitar collection to find something comparable. He is also a stylish musician with feeling for the musical phrase.

...The recording team have caught Johannes Möller's beautiful tone to perfection and it is a tribute to both technicians and player that there is not a single extraneous noise on the disc; rare indeed with guitar recordings.

...a cornucopia of immaculately executed and artistically superb music-making on this disc..."

MusicWeb International (UK)

"...Johannes Möller who must be considered as one of the most talented guitarists of our time. His excellent playing, musicality, sense of form and style, fluent technique and phrasing is convincing."
